EXTENSION NEWS

G. L. James, Local Farm Agent

The Annual Farmers Conference was held at the Cerver-Price High School auditorium on Tuesday, March 10, from 9:30 to 12:30.

Mr. R. L. Shaw, Specialist on Aromatic Tobacco, introduced the Turkish Type Tobacco as an additional cash crop in Appomattox County .His main points were: available labor necessary ... curing facilities also necessary. Other favorable points were: easy to grow and handle, good prices offered, no allotments or restrictions, does not interfere with dark or bright tobacco seasons, three months work season on this crop. Slides, bales, poles were used to educate the audience on how the Turkish tobacco is handled from seedbed to market. One farmer, Mr .Willie Chambers, of Hixburg Community, proceeded the same day to plant the seed and is trying 3/4 acre this year.

Mr. Carl J. Holcomb, Forestry Specialist, showed film and discussed the timber values on the small farm and the insurance offered in care, planting seedlings, thinning and management, as means to cash crop income from woodland holdings. Due to previous planning with Mr. Holcomb, 4-H forestry tree planting projects, orders for 7,500 loblolly pine seedlings have been ordered for 4-H members this month. Mr. Colonel Walker, of Hixburg Community, requested information on becoming a tree farmer. Forestry demonstrations have been held on the Walker farm in previous years.

Mrs. J .W. Dinwiddie, District Manager of the Social Security office in Lynchburg, discussed the Social Security law changes, the importance of filing income tax returns, and the Social Security law being compulsory and not voluntary. Individual case and questions were discussed. Mr. Dinwiddie stated eleven hundred Appomattox persons were receiving social security.

The annual "Outstanding Negro Farmer" award was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Manley Ferguson, of Stonewall Community, for their efforts, building and landscaping their new farm home, Soil Conservation plan, strip cropping, and their start with calves and sow and litter projects. These young people are high school graduates and are setting an example of possibilities for young people within Appomattox County.

The audience enjoyed two numbers by the school chorus, under the direction of the music instructor, Mrs. Turner. Lunch was served following the program in the school cafeteria.

4-H projects have been extended into "Pine Seedlings" planting project. The members orders for 7,500 loblings are: Hilda Jackson, Alex Turpharus, Lolita Forbes, Ora Scruggs, Eugene Harvey.
